MIDWAY'S

GREATEST ARCADE HITS™

Volume 1

When a player reaches 990,000 points on Defender, what happens?

1. The player will get an extra ship for any object they shoot.
2. The game restarts on wave #1.
3. The game ends with the text, "Game over, you won!"

Meteor Crater

Does anyone have a problem with John Torque's latest gig? J.T. has had it with the jokes! Shoot, a bounty hunter is as honest of a job as any, right? Besides, there is some decent bread to be made in capturing wanted crooks, and it's fun too! Especially when the felon is the foxy Nina Loco...

ALECK 64 ---

Arcade video game system with Nintendo 64 architecture

Opening the doors to new video games.

In cooperation with Nintendo Co., Ltd., Seta Corporation developed ALECK64, an arcade game system using technology from the Nintendo 64 home video game system. ALECK 64 is equipped with a motherboard, ROM cassette, and special joystick, and offers a wide range of new arcade video games. This revolutionary new arcade game system will benefit the operator, distributor and manufacturer.

Feature 1

Realistic graphics and movement.

ALECK 64 was developed based on the design concept of Nintendo 64 in order to utilize its refined 3D computer image technology. In addition, the system's unique joystick enables 3D motion for more realistic movement with in the game.

Feature 2

High performance at a low price.

ALECK 64 offers high performance but at a low price to ensure strong user satisfaction.

Feature 3

Copy protection features.

This system uses a number of full-custom LSI chips originally developed for the Nintendo 64. The ROM cassettes and joystick also operate on customchips, making unauthorized copying of ALECK 64 almost impossible.

Feature 4

Wide lineup of ROM cassette software.

Wide line up of ROM cassette software ALECK 64 can be used with a wide variety of software, including some of the more popular home video games. The software can be quickly switched simply by exchanging the ROM cassette.
